

8 Great Ways to Serve Up More Fruits and Vegetables

❶ KEEP IT RAW. Most vegetables taste great raw. Try a low-fat dip with whole green beans, cut kohlrabi, raw cauliflower, sugarsnap peas, broccoli, assorted bell peppers, baby zucchini, turnip sticks and rutabaga pieces. Think beyond carrot and celery sticks.

❹ STEAM IT. Steam vegetables using a steamer basket that fits into a saucepan. Or use a special electric vegetable steamer or microwave. Steam dried fruit for a soft, sweet treat.

❼ CARAMELIZE IT. Caramelize onions, peppers, carrots and other sweeter vegetables by cooking them in a small amount of heart-healthy oil over medium-high heat. Stir frequently, until vegetables are very golden—about 15 to 20 minutes. Caramelize your favorite fruit and serve over low-fat ice cream for a great-tasting dessert.

❽ GRILL IT. Cook your favorite vegetables or fruits on the grill. Skewer kabobs, place in foil packs or marinate in your favorite marinade. Marinades are great on fruit, too! You're only limited by your imagination. Combining fruits and vegetables make a "sweet and savory" blend that many top chefs employ when creating gourmet meals.
